

GLOVE QUALITY POLICY

- └ Egebant undertakes that the occupational gloves it manufactures fully comply with the applicable national and international standards, current regulations, and declared technical specifications. Within this scope, up-to-date technical files and related documentation for the products are prepared and maintained in order to ensure that regulatory compliance information can be provided upon request.
- └ Where products are sourced from external organizations, Egebant confirms that the relevant technical files are current and complete, include appropriate conformity assessment information, and, where required, contain regulatory compliance certificates. In addition, the necessary checks are carried out to verify the validity of the compliance documentation provided by the external supplier.
- └ Egebant bases all its activities on compliance with applicable regulations and product safety.
